

ABSTRACT

[0032] Embodiments of the present invention provide a method, apparatus and system for multi-channel Basic Service Set (BSS) wireless local area network (WLAN) architecture to enable switching communication between a media access controller of an access point and a plurality of remote units between multiple channels.